Notes: This table shows the results of margin estimates from logit regressions, estimating treatment effects. Note these results mirror those in Table 3 in the paper, but using logit regressions instead of linear probability models. It does this for the Identity manipulation only, the Social Rewards manipulation only, and all treatment conditions (with the condition involving both manipulations). Results without controls and with controls for whether or not a teacher completed the survey in the year prior to the study, 2016, and school fixed effects are included.
Factor 1 (explaining 44.96% of the variance) we labeled good student behavior due to the unique high loadings (> .5) by items like the percentage of students with zero out-of-school suspensions. Factor 2 (explaining 20.61% of the variance) we labeled parent/student satisfaction due to the unique high loadings (> .5) by items like the percentage of parents at a given school who responded positively when asked about the climate of their children’s school in the previous annual survey. Factor 3 (explaining 17.58% of the variance) we labeled quality teachers due to the unique high loadings (> .5) by items like the percentage of teachers at a given school who received a “distinguished” effectiveness rating. Each of these dimensions significantly predicts teacher survey completion (see Online Appendix Figure 1 above).

(a) Follow-Up #1: April 25, 2017

Subject: Reminder: District-Wide Teacher Survey Open through May 31

Dear Teacher,

If you’ve already completed the District-Wide Survey, thank you! If you haven’t, please see the message below.

This survey is being completed by teachers across Philadelphia. Your input will be used to identify successes and areas where resources and support are needed. You can access the survey through the Employee Portal until May 31.

The survey will take approximately 30 minutes to complete. All responses will be kept confidential and data will only be reported in aggregate.

We know your time is valuable, so we would like to thank you for your participation:

Complete the survey and you could win $100!
We will randomly select 15 teachers who complete the survey and award them a $100 gift card to Barnes and Noble, just for you!

To complete the survey, please login to the Employee Portal (https://seo.philasd.org) and click the checkmark icon labeled “District-wide Teacher Survey.” All responses will be confidential, but please do not forward this email to anyone else.

As always, we greatly appreciate your participation.
